About me

I am Đorđe Veljanovski, a 19-year-old junior web developer. I acquired most of my knowledge on my own, but I also attended certain courses. Disciplined, responsible, accommodating and trustworthy person. I use most of my free time to acquire new knowledge, professional and personal improvement in various technologies and spheres of life and science. I graduated from the Electrical Engineering School (Computer Technician), and I continue my education at Apeiron University – Faculty of Information Technologies. Active driver – B category.
